Alain Hubert

Belgian Polar Explorer to Receive Belgica Medal

share

The medal is awarded to Alain Hubert in recognition of his exceptional contribution to research in the polar regions, in particular his record-breaking polar expeditions, the establishment of important scientific research programmes and the construction of the world’s first Zero Emissions polar research station, the Princess Elisabeth Antarctica.

share

The medal is awarded to Alain Hubert in recognition of his exceptional contribution to research in the polar regions, in particular his record-breaking polar expeditions, the establishment of important scientific research programmes and the construction of the world’s first Zero Emissions polar research station, the Princess Elisabeth Antarctica.

To read the full length article on the Brussels Times website follow the link below!

https://www.brusselstimes.com/593644/belgian-polar-explorer-to-receive-belgica-medal

Download